“Before they’re able to return home, many Atrium patients go to Avalon by Otterbein to continue their recovery after joint replacement surgery. We want to be sure they have all the comforts of home during their stay for rehabilitation. Atrium Medical Center Foundation chose to support our campus partner (the Don Gilmore small house neighborhood) because Avalon by Otterbein is part of the circle of care for joint replacement patients.”

Our Mission

In keeping with our United Methodist tradition, we seek to enhance the quality of life and holistic growth of older persons.

Our Vision

To help older persons live comfortable and secure lives, Otterbein pursues its Christian ministry through excellence, innovation, and integrity by developing covenant relationships with:

- The older persons we serve
- The partners with whom we serve
- The constituent communities which enable us to serve

Our Strategic Goal

To lead the United States in liberating elders, and those who serve them, from the mindset of institutional care.

Thank you.

Continuing to answer our 99-year “call” to seek to enhance the quality of life and holistic growth of older persons and in keeping with our United Methodist tradition, Otterbein has grown and changed significantly over the last five years. The growth is fueled by our passion and desire to find new and better ways to serve. These new ways are grounded in our understanding that as children of God, every individual has the right to be in control of a lifestyle of their own choosing, no matter what type of care and support is needed.

“...As children of God, every individual has the right to be in control of a lifestyle of their own choosing, no matter what type of care and support is needed.”

For Otterbein, that means creating and expanding environments that free one to realize their full potential—to enable all to become the person God has called them to become. We call this “liberation.”

Once exclusively traditional retirement communities, we have now expanded this great ministry to include a wide variety of wellness and life-enriching services, including Avalon by Otterbein small house nursing homes and home health services. While we have grown and changed and are now offering more lifestyle choices, we are still ONE MINISTRY, answering ONE CALL, as ONE OTTERBEIN. Here are some highlights from 2010.

Retirement Living Communities

Wellness by Otterbein is a new and developing service line providing needed care and services to residents in independent living. These services range from nurses in the home to personal care, companionship and homemaker services. We are proud to report that 415 residents took advantage of these new services in 2010. Otterbein St. Marys’ resident Howard Washburn said, “The services are great. The caregivers take an interest in me as a person, not just a patient. The fact that they come to my home enables me to avoid stays in assisted living saving a lot of money, and I get to stay at home with my wife.”

The all-volunteer on-campus shuttle services continued to grow, generating approximately 9,800 trips during the year. This important service helps people continue to live in their patio homes when they no longer drive, yet remain connected to the campus center. Rita Gibbons, a resident who has used the service on a regular basis, said, “I think it is wonderful. The drivers are so nice and take good care of me.” Volunteer driver Joe McClanahan said, “All of us drivers love the service. There has not been one complaint, and the residents we serve are so appreciative, polite and understanding, even when schedules get hectic. I am having a ball!”

Jill C. Hreben, President and CEO
Thomas A. Compton, Chair, Board of Trustees

Development of life enrichment centers

continued in 2010 with the completion of the Thomas H. Bowlus Life Enrichment Center at Portage Valley. The center was funded through generous donor contributions and offers a large activity room, fitness center and computer workstations; complete with a beautiful scenic view overlooking a pond and dense woods. Resident Ruth Ann Manges said the “center is an excellent addition to the campus. The varied activities we’ve had in it have been a great source of enjoyment and fun for everyone.” An interesting fact, the time from idea inception to completion was only four years. Executive Director Tom Keith said it best in his heartfelt speech at the dedication, “When Otterbein partners and residents put their mind to something, they find a way to get it done.” We call that the “Spirit of Otterbein.”

“When Otterbein partners and residents put their mind to something, they find a way to get it done.”

Finally, Lebanon completed a major renovation converting the former Otterbein president's house into a new Adult Day Center, adding space and making a home environment. The Adult Day Center helps individuals maintain the highest possible level of independence while providing family members some time away from the constant stress of caregiving. Adult Day Director Donna Banks said, "The home environment is so comfortable and cozy that it really makes a difference in the well-being of the people we serve and their families. I feel blessed because of the team effort here at Otterbein and being able to make a difference!"

Avalon by Otterbein Small House Skilled Nursing Neighborhoods

Avalon by Otterbein at Maineville was certified in October, making it our fifth small house nursing home. The neighborhood was funded in part through the tremendous generosity of the Marge Schott Foundation.

Otterbein's small house model is a new way of delivering care that is designed to de-institutionalize nursing home life and provide an environment where elders engage in meaningful life activities. The idea, originally developed by Mississippi Methodist Senior Services, is to deliver care and services in a facility that is home, not "home-like." While Otterbein is currently the largest provider of this revolutionary model, there are dozens of other organizations throughout the nation that have joined this pursuit. What began as the "right thing to do" has become a revolution that's changing the way America cares for her elders.

"...a revolution that's changing the way America cares for her elders."

Our hope is to eliminate the belief that frail elders need to be in institutional settings in order to receive affordably-priced services. Elder Assistant Amy Stiles said, "Avalon by Otterbein is home to the elders. They truly feel like a family and at peace in their home. It is not like being at a job for me. It is like being home, and I truly love my role and the people I work with and care for."

Home Health by Otterbein

2010 marked the first full year of Home Health by Otterbein. The driving force is the principle that there is simply no place like home, and it is our goal to help keep people home whenever possible. Home Health offers skilled nursing care, rehab therapy and home health aides to those recovering from an illness or surgery. We are proud to have served 163 persons in their home in our first year. Debbie Williams, daughter of Home Health patient Joan Archer, shared "how pleased" the family was with the services provided. Joan, Kenneth and the rest of the family said that "the quality and quantity of service they received was 500 percent."

"...the quality and quantity of service they received was 500 percent."

We look for continued growth in this new outreach ministry.

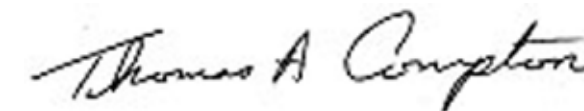

Stewardship

The Holman Bible Dictionary defines stewardship as "utilizing and managing all resources God provides for the glory of God and the betterment of His creation." Despite continued economic challenges, the good stewardship of Otterbein's 1,550 partners in caring, 460 volunteers, 149 local and corporate board and committee members, and 2,077 generous donors, coupled with God's grace, have made 2010 another very blessed year.

Thanks to all for being part of ONE MINISTRY, answering ONE CALL, as ONE OTTERBEIN!

One Otterbein. New Beginnings.

Over the past 99 years, Otterbein has continually grown and changed. Starting with one location near Lebanon, Ohio, in 1912, we have grown into a dynamic multi-faceted organization. Otterbein currently boasts five full-service retirement communities, five small house skilled nursing and rehabilitation neighborhoods, and a home health care ministry.

As we begin our next 100 years, our family will undoubtedly grow. We can only imagine what Otterbein will look like on our bicentennial anniversary. However, one thing will always remain the same. Regardless of how we grow, Otterbein will always be a family. And regardless of where that family may be located, they will always be a part of "One Otterbein."

“Four years ago, Kay and I made the decision to move to Otterbein. There hasn’t been a moment that we have regretted doing this. I was motivated by two factors: age and health. The associations with fellow residents and partners have been a further benefit to us.”

If you were to ask residents their favorite part of living at Otterbein, what would they say? They might mention the variety of attractive, comfortable homes to choose from. They might talk about the friendly and professional staff at each of the five retirement community campuses. Or discuss the on-campus amenities like housekeeping, laundry, and snow removal. They might even talk about campus activities like crafting classes, Christmas parties, or working in the woodshop.

True. There is a lot to love about living at Otterbein. But most likely residents would say that their favorite parts of campus life are the friendships they've made and the people they've met.

Otterbein has always been about people. And it always will be! The reason Otterbein continually expands its ministry with new offerings is to better serve people. In fact, Otterbein remains active in surrounding communities because we are committed to providing the best services for older people. And, serving people is why Otterbein has been recognized as a leader for nearly 100 years.

One Otterbein. Small Houses.

“My mother, Ethel Couch, just turned 104. When she moved to Avalon by Otterbein, she was no longer walking. Now, with the aid of their excellent rehabilitation staff, she is starting to walk again. We couldn’t be happier with the loving care she receives and with the life she is able to lead here.”

Ray Weeney

Avalon by Otterbein is unlike any other long-term care environment in Ohio. A neighborhood of five houses, built like your house or mine, in a residential neighborhood. In these “small houses,” the focus is the elder who calls the house “home” and an environment which affords them renewed control over their daily lives.

The small house model is unique to the nursing care industry. Each Avalon by Otterbein small house accommodates 10 residents, each with their own private room and bath. The room can be decorated with personal treasures. Additionally in the hearth area, surrounding the fireplace, there is one shelf for each resident in the house – again, this is their space to help decorate the mantle in their home.

The heart of the small house is the open common area. It is more than the kitchen, the living room and the dining room. It is where residents visit with friends and family, share their meals together at a long dining room table, and where decisions about the meals, the activities and the home are made together between partners and residents.

Care is provided by a team of elder assistants (state tested nurse assistants) and nurses. The guide, coach, health care coordinator, quality of life coordinator, chaplain and housing coordinator all work with the team to ensure each resident’s personal preferences are respected and that decisions about care are made by the resident with input from the team.

Goals are important to the short-term rehabilitation residents of the small houses to recover from surgery or a major illness. These residents have the goal to return to their own home as soon as possible, ready to resume all the activities they had been engaged in prior to their surgery or illness.

Small House – Big Difference makes Avalon by Otterbein a truly unique ministry.

Home Health by Otterbein

Home Health by Otterbein is dedicated to helping people stay in their homes longer. By providing superior in-home care, Home Health by Otterbein clients are able to retain their current lifestyle and independence longer.

Home Health by Otterbein caregivers specialize in working with seniors in their homes. Caregivers take the time to listen, care, and meet the unique needs of every client. Home Health specializes in medical home care, particularly in helping seniors recover from surgery, illness, injuries, wounds, and falls.

In keeping with our United Methodist heritage, Home Health by Otterbein recognizes that spiritual support is a part of physical healing. That's why Home Health by Otterbein offers such support. Unique to the home care industry, spiritual support specialists are available to pray with clients, read scripture, or just talk. Spiritual support specialists meet people where they are, at Otterbein or in local communities, with understanding and compassion.

Home Health by Otterbein continues to expand and currently services the following counties:

One Otterbein. One Mission. One Heart.

You are a major part of the reason Otterbein is nearing its 100th anniversary. Donors down through the years have touched thousands of residents and partners by giving from their hearts.

In 2010, you gave generously to support residents' benevolent care needs. Your giving helped construct the Thomas H. Bowlus Life Enrichment Center at Portage Valley. And it helped move us toward our goal to construct life enrichment centers on all campuses. Soon, we will break ground for centers that will focus on whole-person wellness on the Lebanon and St. Marys' campuses. At Cridersville and North Shore, gift income provided a variety of programs and services. At all campuses, giving helped provide for partners' emergency needs. Small house residents benefited through gifts for the Don Gilmore Endowment and for equipment and other needs. In fact, gift income was the highest ever – $4.5 million dollars.

Your financial investment makes you part of the Otterbein family – “One Otterbein” includes you!

Thank you for your continuing faith in our mission. We hope you will continue to partner with us to provide the best in care and services for older people for years to come.

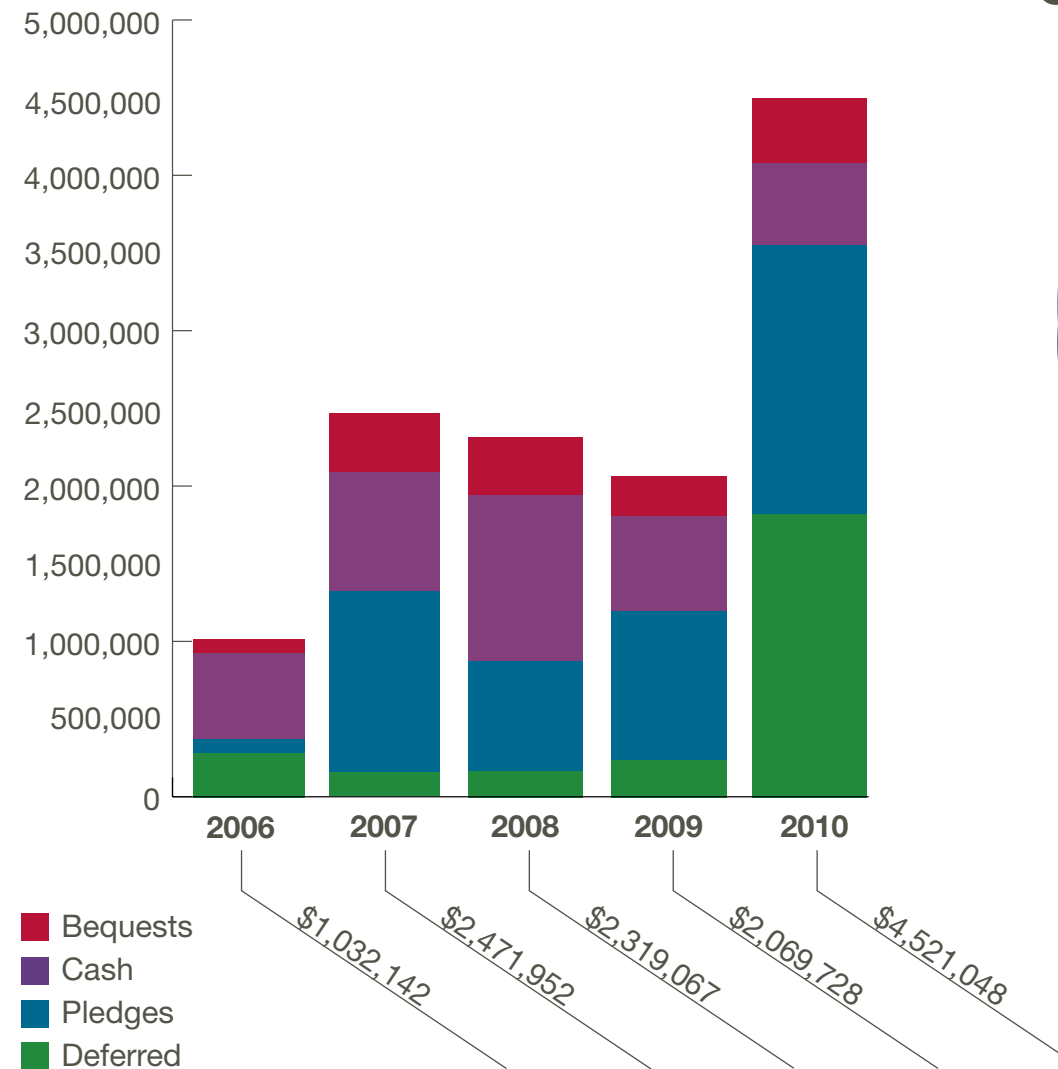

May you continue to be blessed as your giving blesses Otterbein.

Vice President of Development

The Otterbein Special Societies and Contributor Clubs exist to honor the many faithful supporters of the Otterbein mission. Each year, Otterbein depends on charitable gifts to provide the same high quality loving care for all residents — regardless of their financial situation.

Benevolent care needs are ongoing and ever increasing. Year in and year out, it is the generosity and faithful stewardship of contributors that allow Otterbein to help provide enhanced care, services, and programs to those who call Otterbein home. All contributions — large and small — work together to touch the lives of those in need.

Otterbein Angels

Contributors who gave every month

Those who contribute monthly hold a special place in the heart of the Otterbein mission. Our "Otterbein Angels," through their faithful, ongoing support, minister to residents in a special way. "Angels" are listed both in the appropriate club level according to their total gifts in a calendar year, and in the separate listing of "Otterbein Angels!"

Centennial Society

Since 1912, Otterbein has been blessed by the loyal and passionate support of many who demonstrate their belief in our mission through charitable giving. Those who have given for 10 or more consecutive years qualify for special recognition as Otterbein’s most loyal friends and become members of the Otterbein Centennial Society. Thank you for helping advance our tradition and national recognition as a leader in care and service to older people.

Give a Gift

“ Whether the gift you choose to give is large or small, it makes a difference and touches lives at Otterbein. Every contribution from you is important. Thanks for your investment in our mission.”

Jill C. Hreben
President and CEO

“ I know that if I need more care, it is always here and available.”

Ruth Floyd
Otterbein Portage Valley

Otterbein continues to be “One Otterbein” with support from generous donors. Please, consider sharing a portion of what God has given to you. Your gift is truly a blessing to Otterbein.

Your gift helps our ministry provide:

- Benevolent care for those who can no longer pay for the true cost of their care.
- Important tools and personal items for residents who live in the Avalon by Otterbein small house neighborhoods through the Quality of Life fund.
- An endowment for benevolent care that will continue to provide for those needs into the future.
- Emergency funds for Otterbein partners with unexpected crises.
- Innovative, multi-dimensional wellness programming.
- Equipment and amenities that enhance the lives of residents on all campuses.

And much, much more...
